

Contents

	List of illustrations	page vii
	Notes on contributors	viii
	Preface	xi
	Introduction: eikos in ancient Greek thought Victoria Wohl	1
1	Eikos arguments in Athenian forensic oratory Michael Gagarin	15
2	Eikos in Plato's Phaedrus Jenny Bryan	30
3	Aristotle on the value of "probability," persuasiveness, and verisimilitude in rhetorical argument James Allen	47
4	"Likely stories" and the political art in Plato's Laws Ryan K. Balot	65
5	Open and speak your mind: citizen agency, the likelihood of truth, and democratic knowledge in archaic and classical Greece Vincent Farenga	84
6	Counterfactual history and Thucydides Robert Tordoff	101
7	Homer's Achaean wall and the hypothetical past Karen Bassi	122
8	Play of the improbable: Euripides' unlikely Helen Victoria Wohl	142

vi	Contents
9	Revision in Greek literary papyri Sean Gurd	160
10	Likeness and likelihood in classical Greek art Verity Platt	185
11	“Why doesn’t my baby look like me?” Likeness and likelihood in ancient theories of reproduction Daryn Lehoux	208
12	Galen on the chances of life Brooke Holmes	230
13	Afterword Catherine Gallagher	251
	References	264
	Index locorum	286
	General index	289